Computer Classes Added to GWRRA Discount Benefit Membership Program

Phoenix, AZ (January 1, 2009) — Phoenix, AZ – Melissa Eason, Executive Director of the Gold Wing Road Riders Association (GWRRA), is pleased to announce a new Member benefit! GWRRA is partnering with Metrotek Learning, a leading computer software and business training company to provide the most complete and up-to-date, online computer training library available today. By combining the finest instructor led lectures with the latest technological trends in content development and delivery, Metrotek Learning brings the classroom experience to people who are not able to fit a class schedule into their busy lifestyle. These online computer training classes are being offered to our Members at a substantial discount. You can train around the clock, around the world, from any location, work, home, or even while you are on vacation; all you need is a computer with broadband internet access.

Take advantage of this great Member benefit and improve your personal skills, increase your chance for that promotion, or prepare for a new job, career or hobby. We know there are only so many hours in the day. So, how can you deal with another demand on your time, a commute to a physical location and a class that also requires you to learn on their timeline not yours?

Worry no more. If you struggle while working in Excel to complete Rider Ed reports or Financial Reports, or you want to learn more about formatting a letter or Word document, or you need to learn the tools to give a successful PowerPoint presentation for GWRRA or your business - we have the answer! With Metrotek Learning's online training you will enjoy learning new skills, shortcuts and tips to be the most effective and productive in your work environment. Choose from many Microsoft Office Suite programs including Word, Excel, Access, Outlook, PowerPoint and Project, as well as Adobe Acrobat, just to name a few.

Change happens. We must adapt and develop new skills to become or remain successful. Metrotek Learning and GWRRA have partnered to help Members deal with change and acquire the knowledge needed to compete in the 21st Century. GWRRA Members can enroll in the classes at a discounted rate of only $75 per class. (The classes list at $179 per class.) Participants will have access to classes for six months, 24 hours per day from any broadband internet connected computer.

For more information, lists of the classes, and to get started now, contact Katherine Orr, by email at gwrra@metroteklearning.com or by phone at 704-523-2272 and remember to mention you are a Member of GWRRA to get your discount!
